Student Learning Objectives:

Students who take this course will:

- Perform at a high level of proficiency as a section and ensemble member, as well as in smaller chamber ensembles
- Understand the concepts of good intonation, balance, and blend
- Understand the concepts of phrasing, dynamics, rhythmic accuracy, and ensemble clarity as it relates to the performer
- Become familiar with a diverse range of quality repertoire including but not limited to: newer works, works by diverse composers, older standards, etc.
- Work creatively and collaboratively with other members of the ensemble

Student Expectations and Rehearsal Etiquette:

- Be on time and prepared for rehearsal (this means you must practice at home!)
- Come to rehearsal open-minded and ready to learn
- Use time in rehearsal to become a better musician: listen actively, understand your role, and participate in class discussions as well as music making
- Be quiet, respectful, and stay focused on the rehearsal process
- Phones are not to be used during rehearsal unless specifically stated
- Respect colleagues, the teacher(s), the equipment, and the space
- This environment should be a safe place where all students feel welcomed

Concert Schedule:

Student attendance at all evening dress rehearsals and concerts is required.

Ensembles rely on all students participating in order to perform music at the highest of levels. Please put the dates below on your calendar NOW and inform Mr. Carter if there are any conflicts. These are not the only performances so keep an eye on the calendar for any potential additions. The dates are posted through a Google Calendar that you can add to your personal calendar for all NCHS Bands events at ironmenbands.org

- Thursday, February 16th, 2023: NCHS Showcase Concert - Wind Ensemble Performs
- Thursday, February 23rd, 2023: All Bands Concert
- Sunday, March 26th-Tuesday, March 28th, 2023: Wind Ensemble Trip to Chicago
- Thursday, May 11th, 2023: All Bands Concert*
- Other Dates TBD as the year progresses

Grading:

Band is a skill-based class with Standards-Based Grading. Standards can be found at ironmenbands.org under FOR STUDENTS. Playing tests are the most common form of skill assessment, and they will be administered either during class or outside of class via electronic submission. Skills demonstrated in class on a daily basis are also considered. PERFORMANCES are used to assess a variety of performer and audience skills, and attendance at all performances is required (for the duration of the entire concert.) See the standards as listed on the band website for additional details.

Excused absences from a performance include: illness the day of the performance (not in school), death in the family, immediate family wedding, school sports conflict. (NOTE: Club and outside sporting events are not considered an excused absence.) In case of a school-related conflict, please notify your coach and band director as early as possible.

Folders:

You will be assigned a folder for the year which will be labeled with your name and instrument. Folders are to be kept in your locker or in the Band room and you are responsible for them at all times. If the folder is damaged or lost while in your possession, you will be responsible for the cost of replacement as well as the contents of the folder: music, books, etc. (which can range from $25 to $50). To minimize wear and tear on the folders, students will also be provided with a cardboard folder to transport music to and from home for practicing; please do not stuff the oversized folders into your backpack.

Music:

Every student will be issued their own set of music parts for the concerts. Please write only in pencil on these parts and in warm-up books/binders. Loose scale sheets, fingering charts, and other materials may also be provided and are yours to keep.

Lockers:

Each student will be issued a locker in which to store their instrument. Please use only your assigned locker. You are responsible for supplying your own lock to keep your locker locked at all times. Your personal insurance on your instrument will NOT cover theft if your locker was unlocked. If you are playing a school owned instrument, a lock is required. Locker combinations must be provided to Mr. Carter and will be stored in Charms. If theft occurs because of your negligence, you will be asked to cover the cost of the instrument. (Some of the larger instruments range in cost from $2,500 to $5,000 or more).

Concert Dress:

Students will be provided with concert attire. It is expected that students take good care of their concert attire. This includes keeping it on a hanger, dry cleaning as necessary, and returning it in good condition at the end of the year. Students will need to provide shoes as well as socks if necessary. Please consider your appearance as part of the school's and band's "professional" image when wearing the uniform.

Auditions:

Students perform an audition in the early Spring each year. Their final assessment grade and future part assignments/band placements are determined by the audition. Included materials are scales (as many as possible in as many octaves as possible), excerpts of music they have prepared outside of class, and sometimes, other etudes or technical exercises as assigned. Percussionists generally prepare assigned excerpts on mallets, snare drum, and possibly other instruments as assigned. These auditions help us to monitor a student's progress throughout the year, and they help the students develop audition and interview skills for the future.

Practice:

Students are expected to practice their individual parts outside of rehearsal. Rehearsal is for learning each other's parts and how the music works together, not for learning your individual part.

Private Lessons:

All instrumentalists are strongly encouraged to study privately with a specialist on their instruments. It is proven that a student will progress at a quicker pace with the help of a private instructor. In a large group setting, you may not always receive the instrument-specific information and individual attention needed that is possible in a private lesson. Private instruction is a way to work on YOUR individual musical and technical needs. If you would like to study privately, contact information for private teachers is posted at ironmenbands.org. Mr. Carter would also be happy to make a recommendation.

If you have questions regarding any of the above information or need to contact Mr. Carter, the best way is by email at carterp@unit5.org. You may also contact via office phone or leave a message at 309-336-6377. I will respond as soon as possible, but please be patient, as my daily schedule includes travel and teaching in other buildings in addition to NCHS.
